Art Unit: 1772

1. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
  - (1) Field of the Invention.
  - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Art Unit: 1772

3. Claims 14-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification, in page 1, paragraph 1, recites that "the materials producing the release properties are located within the plastic layer". However, the said specification fails to disclose as to how is said plastic layer with the release properties formed or made. It is also noted that the material that would exhibit the release property and the plastic layer containing it are not disclosed. Without such disclosure, the specification is not found to be enabling.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 15 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 15 and 19, the phrase "or similar material" is found to be indefinite as it is not clear as to what material is encompassed by said phrase.

6. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification, on pages 4 and 5, contains abbreviations of material for plastic and adhesive. Applicant is requested to replace the abbreviations by the complete word for each of the material recited.

Appropriate correction is required.

Art Unit: 1772

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

8.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claims 14, 18 and 21-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Duncan (4,626,460).

Duncan relates to a multiplayer composite material wherein a first web and a second web sandwiches a layer of adhesive and a release layer therebetween (abstract). The facing layer can itself be a laminate of two or more plastic films (col. 2, lines 13-15) to provide for further layers being located on the outside of the web and that the web is made from an oriented plastic film. Further, the release layer can have release agent incorporated into or coated on the film (abstract). The process for the production of the composite comprises providing a first web with adhesive on one side and adhered to a release layer bonded to a second web (col. 1, lines 38-45). The layers can be co-extruded (col. 1, lines 62-66). The web can be pre-produced plastic when the intermediate layers are coated onto the web surface.

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1772

11. Claims 14-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pedginski (5,807,632) in view of Duncan.

Pedginski relates to a release coated adhesive article comprising at least one release layer, at least one adhesive layer on it and a backing layer adhered to the adhesive (col. 3, lines 50-55 and Fig. 5). The process for making the adhesive article comprises providing the layers in succession or co-extruded (abstract). The web can be oriented while co-extruding or can be oriented before or after the coating step (abstract). The web can be plastic, metal, non-woven fabric or paper (col. 5, lines 64-67). However, Pedginski fails to teach that the release layer (as in Fig. 5) has an outer backing layer. Duncan, as discussed above, teaches the advantage of using a backing layer for the release layer to provide for support and protection from adverse conditions. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to utilize Duncan's teaching of using a backing web for the release layer in the invention of Pedginski.
